HIGH SCHOOL PARKING TAGS

Chief of Police Paul Lynch has suggested, and there is a good chance of acceptance of the idea, that 'parking tags' be issued to teachers and to pupils of Wilmington.

NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT AMBULANCE: Delivered last week, and which cost the town $11,000 plus the old ambulance.

It has a Cadillac body on a Pontiac chassis, and a Pontiac engine. It is capable of handling two people at one time, and was made by the Superior Eastern Sales Co. of Medford. The siren, described as an Electronic Siren, is nearly out of this world.

Shown as driver is Private Charles Lauziere, of Beacon Street Extension.

Planning Board Reports to Firms

The Wilmington Planning Board last night signed and sent to Warren Kunz, Avco Veep, and five other persons, representing the five firms which gave money to the town for Planning Use, a report on their activities. The letter read:

September 5, 1967

Mr Warren Kunz
Avco Research and Advanced Development, 201 Lowell Street, Wilmington, Mass.
Dear Mr Kunz:

Since we last saw you, at the luncheon in June at the Grear Division of Joy Mfg Company, the Planning Board has undertaken several important projects for the assurance of a sound future for Wilmington.

We have hired, for the summer, the town's first full-time planner. He is Mr. Steven Bartlett, a Harvard student in planning, and has been undertaking a land-use study and coordinating other efforts as well as consulting with the Board and State officials on planning matters.

Another major project now initiated, is that of producing an 'Official Map'. The work has been contracted out to Charles E Downe of West Newton, who has worked previously for the town on the 1960 school study. If the official map does what we think it will do, and if it is accepted by the Town Meeting, it will eliminate all paper streets and prohibit building on other streets not actually in use. This will permit more rational development while excluding building on small, expensive-to-serve lots. Another useful provision is that it enables the town to plan ahead for improved traffic circulation and recreation. This can be done by reserving park land and street rights-of-way (either entirely new or widenings) by amendment of the official map.

The '701' application for planning assistance has cleared all state hurdles and is now awaiting approval and funding from Washington. The town is twelfth in priority on a list of thirty-five Massachusetts cities and towns. Prof. Charles W. Elliot, our consultant, has been handling the application and tells us that he has arranged with the Department of Commerce and Development that any money spent prior to the '701 Program; or '701' projects will not reduce the total Federal contribution.

If you have any questions or suggestions please don't hesitate to let one of us know.

Yours very truly,
Sterling C Morris, Town Manager.

A Daniel Gillis, Chairman, Planning Board.

Elevation Errors

Town Engineer Arthur Harding told the Planning Board, last night, that there were some 'errors' in some of the street elevations in the Woodland Drive - Hansen Road area of Wilmington. The area has been the site of some controversy in past months, because of reports of drainage problems.

Mr Harding said that in some cases the elevation of the street was two feet higher than it was supposed to be.

He recommended that the street be lowered, so as to afford better drainage to house lots in the area. Ten persons from the area were present to hear the report.

One of them asked if any of the 'bond money' to guarantee construction of the streets, was still left.

Harding said that in 1964 there was a bank book with the Town Clerk for $8500, and that at that time the work to be done was estimated to be $8100. This figure, he said, should probably be increased by 5%, because of the increase of construction costs since then.

There is to be a further discussion of the problems of those streets next week. Planning Board secretary Enli Berger requested that the Town Engineer submit a written report, with his recommendations.

One of the abutters asked the Town Engineer how long it would take to bring the road to the proper grade. Harding estimated that it could be done in six weeks.

Steve Bartlett

The members of the Planning Board recommended that Steve Bartlett, Harvard Planning Student be continued on a part-time basis, now that the scholastic year has been resumed. Mr Bartlett has been working on a full-time basis all summer.

It turned out, during the conversation, that each of the Planning Board members had had the same idea, and had been talking privately of the idea for which they all voted.

Other Business

There was a request from the Town Manager that Lot 16, on Cypress Street, now town owned, be sold to the owner of Lot 15, as provided in the vote of the Town Meeting last March. The lot is about 50 feet wide and 100 feet long.

The Board voted to recommend the sale, with the proviso that no building be erected on the lot.

There was also a memorandum from the TM about Del Drive. Abutting owners say that there are rocks and other debris on the street and they want it cleaned up.

Town Engineer Harding said he had been trying to get in touch with the developer, but had been unsuccessful. A bond is still good, for the street, he said.

MIKE SHELLEY PROMOTED TO LANCE CORPORAL

Marine Michael L Shelley, son of Mrs Dorothy Shelley, Ranch Road, has been promoted to Lance Corporal.

Shelley was recently transferred to an Otter (tank) Company, where he drives and repairs tanks and heavy equipment with the First Marine Division. He is stationed about two miles from DaNang Air Base in Vietnam.

RAYMOND SAMPSON PROMOTED

Raymond Sampson, son of Mr and Mrs Raymond Sampson of 1 Fairmeadow Road has been promoted to Airman Second Class, at Castle Air Force Base, Colorado.

BREWSTER FAMILY MOVES TO KANSAS CITY

Mr and Mrs Arthur J Brewster and family of Dorchester Avenue have moved to Kansas City, where Mr. Brewster will be attending the University of Kansas for two years studying for his Doctorate in Education. He is well known in Wilmington, and is a former member of the Wilmington School Committee.

Ever hear of Armour Meats?

Back at the time of the Civil War the now Jensen Farm was owned by William E. Gowing, a well-to-do butcher, who used the barn as a slaughter house.

Mr Gowing had as a business partner a Mr Armour, of the Town (now City) of Lawrence.

Armour proposed that the firm of Gowing and Armour move to Chicago, "where the cattle are nearby". Gowing didn't want to go.

Armour split up with his partner, and went to Chicago. Everyone today knows the name of the firm he founded in that city.

exactly good news. Tax rates are never good news. But it isn't too bad, at that. Many towns have worse.

There was an inclination on the part of this column to regard this $34 tax rate as a sort of an apex for the town, with a gradual and gentle decline for the next few years. But a little reflection will show that this cannot be - at least for another year.

Wilmington is sitting in a good position. For the past several years the first edition of the Town Crier each January has emphasized this fact. It is just as true today. Smithcraft is to build in the Southern Industrial District, and Volkswagen in the new Barbo-Tambone industrial park off Concord Street. There are others in the offing.

But neither of these firms will affect the 1968 tax rate. There is little commercial building at the moment which can act favorably on that rate. Don't ever kid yourself into believing that the taxes paid on homes affect the tax rate favorably.

Meanwhile there is bad news coming from the New England Underwriters Bureau, the Fire Insurance Rating organization of New England.

That organization has been making a survey of the town, on the vote by the annual Town Meeting. The news is practically all bad from the taxpayers viewpoint. Some representatives of the organization are to make a report next Monday, in the Town Hall, but the entire story probably will not be out for some weeks yet.

What the story will add up to is about $200,000 in additional taxes a year, to support the increased fire-fighting abilities of the town.

There were those who argued last year that the Underwriters Bureau should not be called in, and that the survey should be made by an organization similar to that which surveyed the Police Department a few years ago - but minus the personality problem that was brought in at that time.

Partly at least as the result of that survey Wilmington now has an efficient and smoothly operating Police Department, one of the best in Massachusetts. The survey pointed out the weak spots, not to an out of town organization, but to the Town Fathers and the Police, and the town was able to make corrections without 'washing its linen in public'.

The Underwriters Bureau, while it reports to the town, also reports to itself, and the deficiencies noted will become a part of the town's Fire Insurance costs. At the present time the town has a 'C' rating. By next January the town could have a 'D' rating. The effect will be increased insurance costs, not very big, but an increase, for everyone.

So much for washing the linen in public.

The Underwriters Bureau will undoubtedly tell the Town that there is a need for a new Fire Station in North Wilmington; that the Town will have to replace the Pumper with a new one, of 1000 gallons capacity, and that the Fire Department personnel will have to be increased by about a dozen men.

None of this is new. The Fire Chief has been saying this, or a great part of it, for a few years at least, but economy has been the watchword, and the Town never voted for the apparatus etc which the Chief wanted. And now it will have to be faced up, for the Underwriters Bureau will be watching.

A new Fire Station - can the town get one for $100,000? Maybe, but not probably.

A new 1000 Gallon Pumper. Can the town buy one for $40,000? Again, maybe but not probably.

And 12 new firemen (if that is the number recommended). That would cost the town in the vicinity of $75,000 a year.

$200,000 is perhaps a conservative figure. The town is growing. The problems will have to be faced.

AN IRONIC TALE

Henry Jensen is the gentleman of Andover Street who owned the barn which has become the latest victim of the Arsonist's torch. Mr. Jensen has some peculiar problems, just a little bit more peculiar than do the rest of his townsfolk.

He happens to be one of the very few persons who is paying directly for that wild dream of half a dozen years ago - the 'Lightning Might Strike' rezoning, in North Wilmington.

The street on which he lives has a six inch water main, which almost adequately serves the residents of that street. True, there were only two hoses that could get to full pressure, at the Tuesday night fire, but that barn was a 'goner' at the time the fire was discovered, and a dozen hoses could not have saved it. As things stand, as the old joke goes, the Fire Department did save the Foundation.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Mrs. Terry Hanlon is line for congratulations and thanks this week. A small girl, 5 years of age, from the Reinboldt, on Sprucewood Road was choking on a piece of candy. While someone was calling the fire department, Mrs. Hanlon turned the youngster upside down and it was dislodged just before the ambulance arrived. That's excellent thinking, Terry!

Congratulations to the kids at the Lake. The Silver Lake Pharmacy and the surrounding area is sure looking better. Thank you all for the cooperation in using the barrel. It's beginning to look so much better up there. Pretty soon, with the new paint job, curtains, etc., it'll be one of the best looking spots in town, if you kids can continue with your wonderful help. Thanks again, kids.

Back to school this week, and it is certainly funny to see the shorts and T shirts cast aside for the formal school attire, but wonderful to see such a promising group as ours. Lots of luck, kids. I really envy you!

Speaking of schools. Have heard that one young fellow in this here town won a private scholarship on his grades etc. for a prep school, and his family is scrambling to see that he gets there. Congratulations, Bub!

Hear that Dot and Lee Campbell just returned from Expo and haven't had a chance to ask them how their feet made out. The lines up there are something....Another Canadian trip was made by Fred and Cyndy Walking to Nova Scotia and PEI last week and they are finishing their vacation in Ogunquit, Maine. Canada has certainly had it's share of Wilmington tourists this season.

They tell me that Grant's is really giving me a go, this week. They are offering a color TV with approximately $50 off, if you tell them that 'Nancy Sent You'. So, sounds like a worthwhile trip. Let's show 'em folks that you're reading me, and get in to see them anyhow for the demonstration!

We'll be back on the school book route four hours in the middle of the day now, so call me with your stuff before ten or after three. But if you should forget, Tom and Mrs. McNamara on Lawrence St. who own the Wilmington Answering Service will answer. These are nice folks, so give them the message and I'll call you back for the news.

Had an offer to supervise the two-kid cleanup crews on every street from Mrs. Louise Thompson. (She is responsible for the Pershing St. project!) Perhaps we should refer this one to the Recreation Commission to be finished off. Know it'll work. Look at the job the Clark Clan does at the Depot for me... and the twins on Pershing St... and the Drop Committee.....and now somebody must be heading up at Silver Lake Shopping Center.... Think that's Ed Rideout at React in Store #3...By the by, if you have any printing of any type or reproducing to be done...Ed's your man.

The Kiwanians are ack in the groove. Chet Richardson the Lt. Gov. from Georgetown paid his fine for taking his badge home and they said he came through with 'flying silver' but your guess is as good as mine as to what that means. The New England Convention will be at the Hilton on Sept. 28, 29, 30, and everyone is invited to attend. There will be an important meeting tonight at the VFW in Georgetown of Division 6 West at 6:30 p.m. Gordon Richberg will stand watch at the round table at the regular meeting place, since the regular meeting will be held at the Bean Supper on Saturday night...Speaking of the Bean Supper, Ed Rideout needs volunteers on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, September 6, 7, and 8 to give out notices at the Wilmington Plaza. Call 658-9307 and leave your name and phone number. ALL KIWANIANs are expected at the Common by three o'clock to help set up tables and get ready. The assignments are as follows: Ticket Takers, Pizzetti, Reid; Maître Des, Bowman and Bliss; Food Servers, Richburg, Gubellini, Wood, Hehn, Joseph, Lister, Loppert, Spear, Washburn, Tadgell, Gittzus, Rounds, MacLeod Rideout, Sottile and Syvertson; Food Preparation, Traer, Berger Conlin, Grennon, Marfleet, Polsey, Allgrove, and Sgurowski. Carl Backman will be busy with his fruit cakes, 3 lbs for $3.59 each. The order can be left for people not that everyone should push for at least 80% attendance at the Kiwanis meetings. Call a friend on meeting night and ask if he needs a ride. ing night and ask if he needs a ride. Fall is here so let's get the members out. March is Scholarship month and all the clubs are asked to donate $1.00 per member. Chet would like the Wilmington Club to donate and give District 6 West 100%. Back from Florida, after a two weeks vacation are the Lester Smith Jr., family of Faulkner Ave. His brother Douglas accompanied them on the trip.

This Tuesday morning there was a phone call from a lovely lady on Lowell Street. Seems that she saw a dead cat on the Woburn St. intersection on the Avco Side on Friday, and then she ran the tour. Being a good citizen and making an effort to help, and it not being her cat, she called the gendarmes and I understand that her reception was anything but cordial. She called the Dog Officer and he was out of town. Called the Police again, the same treatment, with referral to the Highway Dept. Couldn't get the Highway Dept. over the weekend and this morning, the cat was still there, so she called the Highway Department and they politely told her that that wasn't their job to call the Dog Officer, who is still away. So desperately she called this gal. This gal called the Town Manager, who was his usual courteous self, and it was immediately taken care of. Perhaps we ought to hire a couple of the kids at the Drop Committee to take care of the dead animals over the weekends. Last week, or two weeks ago, I had to call the honorable James and the Chairman of the Board promptly took care of it, but I'd like to know why the TM or Mr. Miceli on weekends or holidays. Do you think something can be done about that, Boys? There's nothing like citizens trying to help, and then getting extremely frustrated and excited, as well as insulted. And we need them--all them thar taxpayers--every living one! Particularly the ones that are interested enough to keep an eye out and do something in this town. How about that Fellas?

The Family Night Suppers are starting at the Methodist Church on Sunday, September 17, at 6:00 p.m., when the Com. on Membership and Evangelism will be the hosts. More than 200 are expected and the inspiration service will be conducted by Calvin and Lois Ryan. Make your reservation with a Commission Member of call 658-4519 and talk with Coe for the FREE Supper. The 17th is Commitment Week and on that first night you will see a brief color Travel Movie of the 30 countried the Ryans have visited, enjoy a concert of sacred vocal selections, and hymns on the marimba and vibraphone, by Lois, and be inspired by Cal's challenging sermon. Reserve all of the nights for the week and don't come alone, bring a friend.

The Home coffee hour study groups begin now for the WSCS and the text will be 'the Bible and the Faiths of Men'. The groups will be held in Billerica, Burlington, and Tewksbury as well as Wilmington. Call Laurena Pembroke for more details.

One on Danger List

Three Boys Injured in Stolen Car Chase

Three Woburn youths, all juveniles, are in the hospital as the result of an accident on Burlington Avenue last Thursday evening.

Police say they were driving a stolen car, stolen in Stoneham that same morning.

All three were taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn, and from there the driver, who was 15, was taken to the Mass General Hospital in Boston, where his name was placed on the Danger List. He is reported to be suffering from a fractured skull. The two other boys are reported as being 16 years old.

The car, a 1964 Chevrolet convertible, was first seen by Officer James Cuoco about 10 pm, parked in back of the Wilmington Builders Supply Company on Main Street.

Officer Cuoco started to walk over to the car, to question the occupants, and it was driven off at a high rate of speed, towards Wilmington Square. It turned onto Burlington Avenue, with Cuoco in a Police Cruiser pursuing.

Cuoco reported that just before the accident the car was being driven at speeds of over 70 mph.

It swerved to the left, and struck a tree, just before getting to Vardala's Market, on the Wilmington Burlington line.

Assisting Cuoco in the chase were Patrolman Fred Ward and Sergeant George Shepard of the Wilmington Police.

Arraignment is to be in the Juvenile Session of Woburn District Court, on Sept. 19th.

Community Fund To Receive $1400

The Board of Directors of the Rotary Club of Wilmington yesterday voted to present the Wilmington Community Fund with a check for $1411.

The money had been in a Rotary account in the Reading Savings Bank for some years, and represented funds raised for the establishment and operation of the Wilmington Dental Clinic. At least part of the money had been an original donation of the Wilmington Community Fund.

The Wilmington Dental Clinic, established in 1947 by the Rotary Club, is in the High School, and is now operated by the Wilmington Board of Health.

PARKING TAGS (Fr. Pg. 1)

ton High School who drive their cars to the school parking lot, each morning.

A meeting is being scheduled for October 4th at which the pros and cons of the idea will be debated with school authorities.

The proposal was first made five years ago, but never acted upon. In yesterday's School Opening the only trouble encountered was the excessive number of automobiles on Church Street, just before 8 am.

Teachers were driving to work, pupils were driving their cars to school, and seemingly several hundred parents were driving their children to school. There was, the Chief says 'a bind'.

He thinks that if a large T for Teacher, and a large S for Pupil were to be printed, and put on the visor of the cars which are to turn into the parking lot, there would be much less trouble. The School Crossing Officer would then know which cars to 'wave' in to the parking lot, and thus get them out of the way.

Other than the 'bind' on Church Street opening day was very uneventful, considering that many children had to be transferred from one district to another, to avoid overcrowding of classrooms, until the Woburn School addition has been completed.

The average size of each class, the Superintendent of Schools says, is smaller than it was one year ago at this time.

A total of 4562 pupils attended school on the first day.

A Three Minute Sketch of the TM's Life Story

President John Ella of the Wilmington Rotary Club has been having the new members tell their life story to the members, during the weekly luncheons for the two past months. Each speaker was allotted three minutes. Yesterday was the turn of Sterling C Morris, Town Manager of Wilmington, and a past president of the St. Albans Vermont club. Morris' story, approximately as related:

I was born in Aroostook County, in the State of Maine, on St. Valentine's Day in 1924. When I was seven we moved to Bangor, where, because of the difference in the schooling, I had to be set back one grade.

I am what is known today as a 'High School Dropout' because I left school in my senior year to enlist in the US Army Air Corps. But I had had some additional schooling in Mount Hebron Academy.

Being in the Air Corps gave me a chance to see the United States. I trained in Texas, and at Hamilton Air Base in California, and then volunteered for duty before I had finished advanced training, and was shipped to Alaska, where I became a part of the 11th Air Force.

We were stationed on a little island that is not to be seen on many maps. It was out near the end of the Aleutian Islands. It was one mile long and half a mile wide, and just big enough to get a heavy bomber into the air. I was an Engineer, and Turret Gunner, on a B-24.

You didn't read much about it in the papers, but our job was to bomb naval bases in the Kurile Islands, which are the northernmost islands of Japan. We were particularly interested in a big naval base there.

It was on one of those bombing trips that the plane was shot down, and I became a prisoner of the Japanese. I succeeded in escaping

FROM THE BOX SEAT

Do you think the Red Sox would like to have Earl Wilson back as much as Gil Hodges would like Mike McCormick?

Boosters meeting Monday at the High School at 8 PM. All are welcome.

A preseason look at Wilmington High football purveys an air of optimism. Coach Bellissimo perennially fields an aggressive, rugged defense, whether his material is a helping of 120 pound tackles or an end zone full of behemoths. The key to the 1967 offense, however, is senior quarterback Billy Walls. Bill hasn't been cheated at the training table, possessing enough size to play at tackle. His arm is strong. His reflexes, agility and savvy are more than adequate. If his execution is anywhere near its potential this year, the team can be noticeably stronger. The Manchester (nee Nashua) Colts are off to an unusually slow start.

Pop Warner looks menacingly strong again this year. The lads manhandled the squads of Woburn and Newton in scrimmage, while tuning up for their first pre-season game Sunday. Connie Barry's Chargers will meet Belmont at Wilmington High School Field at 1:30.

Not Dr. Fagan is not Dr. Fager's doctor!

Tony C. showed his team spirit by heading to the Catskills for a tennis lesson while the rest of the team battled it out. Any guy who cared about his team would have been right there with them for at least moral support. All Tony cares about is Tony. They're better off without him.

Watch for fat, listless Joe Foy to go in the off season for John Roseboro or Bob Rodgers.

I enjoyed the commentary of Curt Gowdy and Paul Christman in describing how old pro Babe Parilli 'picked the young Denver defense to pieces'. Can you name any team in the history of the game that would have stuck with a passer having such a pathetic day? Parilli as expected, blamed his receivers, further exemplifying his spineless character.

Notice all the help Mike Holovak hasn't been picking up as the other teams cut down to the player limit. His general managing is as astute as Bill Russell's coaching. Avco and Rocco's were eliminated from competition in the Lowell softball tourney. As of Tuesday night, National Poly was still in the running.

Lynn Billings, three letterman at WHS a couple of years back, is putting his great hands to good use as a pass catcher for Findlay College in Ohio.

MISS O'LEARY AT BANK CONFERENCE

Miss Phyllis O'Leary, Manager of the Mortgage Service Department of the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank, who resides at 44 Swain Road, will attend the Fall Conference of the Savings Bank Women of Massachusetts at the Sheraton-Wayfarer, Manchester, New Hampshire on September 9 and 10.

com except at this writing it had not arrived. Understand that he was one of the top group when he had to leave school with rheumatic fever last December. His cousin Steven Saper of 2 South Street is also confined to bed with rheumatic fever. Steve's in Grade 7 and will have a tutor. Let's get them on your private mailing lists and also visiting lists. Understand from Mr. John Gould at West Intermediate that Larry is a particularly sociable youngster. Or better still, drop in to visit with him when you have a minute.

I hope the Lions Club and Kiwanis Club particularly have made a note of these two rheumatic fever patients, if they don't know about them already. The Lions Club was very good to one of the clan when we had to face the long hard bed care.

Tommy Wahl, HM3, is en route to Vietnam to join hospital ship the USS Sanctuary. Tommy lives at 7 North Street.

Johnnie Hersom, wife and new baby are home for the month of September. Johnnie is due in Camp Lejeune on September 15.

Arthur and Danny Merrigan have joined the boys on Pershing St. in assisting Mrs. Thompson in the general cleanup campaign. She says that they will all make 'beautiful Marines'.

Kenny Richards of Grove Avenue found a pair of little girls glasses at Baby Beach. These are pink horn rims with some studs at the top. They are also bifocals. If you have lost same, please call me at the Depot 657-7141. I have them there.

Hear tell that there is a big hornet's nest at the corner of Pine-wood Road. One of the residents called this gal. After calling all of the departments, she was going to call the Tree Department and see if they could do something about it. It wouldn't be so bad, but evidently the neighborhood kids' hobby is heaving rocks at it which makes the hornets plenty mad, to say nothing of the residents.

There's another thing that has been called to our attention this week. The fish trucks proceeding down Lowell St to Woburn St and the chemical plants are overloaded. They have neither covers nor any other protection from the hot rays of the sun and the odor is 'putrid'. Seems like something should be done about that. Tried to find out the name of the trucking company to call, but seems that these trucks are not labeled or marked in any way. Is that legal? Anyway, if the companies can't do anything (They must know that they are coming through like that.), then the Town should be this gal's opinion.

Mr. Frederick C. Ryan and Diane Hurd Ryan, both of Wilmington have been working hard to collect funds for the new library at Merrimack College. The campaign has been very successful, we understand. The alumni worked so hard on this project that they have the honor of having the two million dollar library building designated in the lecture hall as Alumni Hall. The announcement was made by Merrimack President, Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, OSA, this week.

Russ Joseph, Chairman of the Methodist Board of Trustees says that a work party will be held at the Parsonage at 12 Kelley Road on Saturday, Sept. 16 to get the house ready to paint. The paint day will be on Sept. 23. Your help is needed on either or both days from 8 a.m. to noon. Call Lowell Chapman at 658-2898 or Dave Holdbrook at 657-7152.

A Group of the fellows in the Service from the Lake area had a get together over the weekend; Mike Kasabuski (Navy) up from Norfolk, Virginia; Nino Trimarchi (Marines) up from Memphis, Tennessee; Chipper Welch (Paratroopers) up from New Jersey; and John 'Dewey' Doucette (Army) home on leave for a month from Germany on his way to Vietnam. Bet that was a great time over Labor Day. Good luck, fellas.

The 'Live In' Camp at Asbury Grove was a success for the Methodist Group. Campers were Danny and Diane Spear; John, Kenneth, and Jean Cleary; Susan Miller; Sharon Fullerton; Doreen Deschenes; Myra Ten Huisen; Debbie, Nancy, and Cindy White; Jeff Jordan, and Phil Morrissey. The leaders were Lester White; Ellie Cleary; Lurena Pembroke; the Rev. Gary Wattles; and the Rev. Earl Bowen. The chefs were Jay Miller and Barbara White. Everyone wants a 'repeat' performance next year with the time extended for a whole week.

Linda Kyle, the Organist and Choir Director at the Methodist Church recently gave an Organ Recital at Marsh Chapel of Boston University and then received her Master's Degree in Music at the August Graduation. Congratulations Linda!

Arson Case #21? or #22?

Arson Case # 21, or Arson Case #22, in recent years, in the Town of Wilmington, depending on how the count is made, was the probable answer for the fire which destroyed the barn of Henry Jensen, Tuesday night, on Andover Street.

Fire Chief Arthur Boudreau has not yet finished his investigation, and will not affirm that the cause was arson, but other officials in the town hold onto the belief, as does Mr. Jensen.

The fire was noticed at about 11 pm Tuesday, from several different sites. Officer Jimmy Cuoco, driving a Police Cruiser on Interstate Route 93 was the first to give the alarm, by police radio. Mr Jensen was awakened by his son Arthur, and at that time the barn was already a mass of flames with the back burning more fiercely than the front.

Chief Boudreau, driving from his home on North Street, could see the flames before he reached Middlesex Avenue. He was the first to arrive, of the Wilmington firemen.

A six inch water main on Andover Street could not supply more than two fire hoses, and other hoses had to be rigged from the Woburn Street hydrants, and from the Brown's Crossing Pumping Station about 1400 feet away.

Apparatus from three towns assisted at the blaze, and there were hundreds of spectators. The barn was a total loss.

In the barn was a 1915 carriage, in excellent condition, for which Mr. Jensen had recently refused an offer of $1500. (It probably cost two or three hundred dollars when it was made.

A retired cabinet maker, Mr Jensen had a complete workshop in the barn, along with many tools, all of which was lost. He had just completed making a set of mullions, for a new greenhouse he was planning to erect.

The barn was underinsured, for only $1000.

RARE OLD CHARCOAL DRAWINGS OF THE JENSEN FARM

A CHARCOAL DRAWING: By J. F. Gilman, and dated 1871, which was probably made for William E. Gowing, and was the property of the grandfather of Wilmington's Board of Health Chairman, Jimmy Durkee. The scene is looking south, on Andover Street.

From the upper window of the barn, in this picture, a young lady, name unknown, but who was alive just a few years ago, used to sit and count the cattle being led into the slaughter house. She was employed as a book keeper by William E Gowing.

The nearest building at right, at right angle to the street, is said to have been the old North School, which stood in the triangle between Woburn and Andover Streets, years before the drawing was made. It is now a part of the Jensen farmhouse.

ANOTHER CHARCOAL DRAWING: Also by Mr Gilman, shows the scene facing north. Notice the train in the background, on the old Salem and Lowell Railroad Track, later called Atsworth Road.

But Mr Jensen's problem is not with his water main, even though he may consider himself aggrieved on that point.

First, the land he owns is a part of the Water Shed, for the Brown's Crossing Pumping Station. He pays taxes that is, on land that is really of service not to himself, but to the town. But he bought that land, and perhaps he had his eyes open. If not, they must be open now.

Second, and of more emphasis, he is paying for a part of the water-main that is going up what was once voted to be Ainsworth Road. He owns land adjacent, and has to pay 'Betterments', even if he does not get any benefit. Even without the later developments, that is an ironic situation.

Ainsworth Road was a part of the 'Lightning Might Strike' rezoning of half a dozen years ago. The street was voted, at the request of the Town Manager etc to be put in, on Betterments. The water main, too, as related, was by Betterments.

And while the Water Department was (and is) pretty efficient, the government of the town, half a dozen years ago, was woefully inefficient.

Many Street Betterments were not recorded in the Registry of Deeds, in Lowell - what this paper once called the 'Non Kosher Street Betterments'.

And only recently it has been discovered that the Ainsworth Road street Betterment was not recorded. As a result it has been stricken from the list of Accepted Streets, in Wilmington.

Now it has reverted to being just what it was before that 'Lightning Might Strike' rezoning.

The lady from Boston who got the idea, and convinced the then TM and a few others that it was a key to the future development of Wilmington did give the town $2000 to pay for the land taking of that right-of-way, which was owned by John Robert Evans.

She was a smart lady, far smarter than was the then TM and his friends. It was not she who pulled the rug out from under the town - it was the lackadaisical government of half a dozen years ago.

Mr Evans, it can be noted, never received any money, for his land. It looks as though he never will. And now that it is no longer an accepted street, does Evans own it again?

If he does, does he own the light poles? Does he own the water main which goes over his land? Could he, maybe put up a barrier, and charge toll from the people who are 'trespassing' on 'his property'?

All that may well be. But the real rub comes for Henry Jensen. He is paying, still, for that water betterment.

Ironic, isn't it?

Birthday Party planned for Rep and Mrs Cain

Two major problems in early days of surgery were shock and infection. Effective anesthesia was not developed until late in the 19th Century. Patients undergoing surgery were either conscious, physically knocked unconscious, or in a state of complete inebriation.

In any case, the pain of incision and internal cutting usually got through to them. The result in the overwhelming number of cases was shock so deep that the patient died immediately or soon after the operation.

Today surgery is one of the more gifted and most promising branches of medicine. Operations considered 'major' just 15 years ago are now handled as routine procedures. Operating mortalities are very rare.

TM'S LIFE STORY
(Fr. Pg. 7)

to Russia, and I spent seven months in that country.

In seven months in a foreign country you can learn to speak the language pretty well, and I learned to speak Russian, although I could not read and write the language, because of the different alphabet.

I traveled the length of Russia and at the end of seven months I found myself in Tashkent, which is above Afghanistan, and has been in the news recently because of diplomatic meetings there.

There was an American organization which 'bought' me out of Russia, and I went across the Arabian Mountains into Iran, ending up in the capital city of Teheran. There the FBI took me over. The FBI was interested in two groups of people coming out of Russia, and I was in one of those two groups. They took me back to the United States, so that I made a trip around the world.

After the war I went to the University of Maine, where I took up Government. I figured I owed the Government a lot, for getting me out of Russia. A lot of people who were in Russia were never heard of again.

After four years I graduated, and then I went back to Aroostook County to go into business there.

But after four or five years I realized that my heart wasn't in the business, and I wanted to be in the thing I was trained for - Government.

So I became the Town Manager of a small town in Maine, and then later of Camden, Maine, which is a nice seacoast town, which many of you Rotarians may have visited.

In 1960 the City of St. Albans, in Vermont, offered me more money, and I figured I needed to broaden my experience, so I went there. I figured that I had had sufficient experience to know what a City Manager should do.

I liked it in St. Albans. I spent seven years there. But the time finally came when I had to look ahead. Every family has to, from time to time, assess itself, and I figured I had to go somewhere for my children's education.

So I applied for a job in a place I had never heard of, in Wilmington. I didn't know anything of the area around Boston, although my wife did, because she attended Regis College.

A month passed by, and I figured I was forgotten, but then one day Charlie Black and Jim Miceli came to St. Albans, and began to ask people how they liked me.

The people all seemed to have given good reports. Perhaps the people who could say bad things of me were out of town that day.

Now I am here in Wilmington, and I like it, although I am still feeling my way around. The government here in Wilmington is more complicated than the government I am used to. One result of this is that it is slower.

I have heard it said that you had some discussions about why Town Managers left Wilmington. I am not going into that, but I am building here, and I hope to stay here.

OH BOY - COLOR TV! Bert Rice (left) and his brother Bill, of the Rice Brothers, North Wilmington, read a letter telling them that the firm they own - Rice Brothers - has won a grand prize from the National Gypsum Co., of a color RCA television for the Remodeled kitchen they made for Mr and Mrs Joseph F Sadlow of Reading.

The brothers installed a new Quaker Maid kitchen. Mr and Mrs Sadlow photographed the work area before and after, and then learning of the contest decided to enter. The Sadlows will receive a movie camera.

Only one problem now remains for Bert and Bill (beside the rebuilding of their shop, which was burned last spring) - who gets the color TV?
